

STUDIA HISTORICA. HISTORIA MEDIEVAL

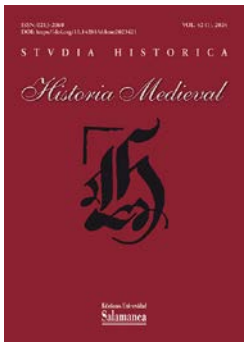

AUTHORSHIP DECLARATION FORM

The journal's Editors wish to remind authors that the manuscripts submitted must be original. They must not have been published in any format, and must not have been previously submitted to any other journal for review. Articles rejected by other journals may be accepted as long as this is communicated to the Editors at the time of submission and the submitted manuscript differs substantially from the rejected version. Translations of published work will not be accepted.

Authorship must be acknowledged to all persons who have contributed to the conceptualization and design of the manuscript; to data collection, analysis and interpretation; to the review of the literature; to the formulation of the conclusions; and to the drafting and revision of the manuscript. All authors must sign this form, which must be sent to the journal by the corresponding author at the time of submission.

The authors declare:

- The manuscript submitted is original; it has not been and will not be sent to other journals for publication, unless it is rejected. It has not been published in part or in full in other journals or any other format.
- The data used in this manuscript has not been plagiarized, invented, manipulated or distorted.
- The original sources of the information contained in this manuscript are correctly identified and cited. The authorship of third-party data and ideas has been acknowledged and is duly identified and cited. The manuscript does not incur in plagiarism.
- The source of previously published figures, tables, data, photographs, etc., is adequately cited in the manuscript. If necessary, permissions for digital reproduction have been obtained and are provided.
- The authorship of any unpublished data or ideas obtained through verbal or written communication has been duly acknowledged, and it is indicated that those data and ideas have been obtained through personal communication.
