

CONTENTS

REPORT

Rafael TORRES SÁNCHEZ, Foreword	23-32
David PARROT, Military Revolution or Military Devolution? Early Modern Military Change and Continuity	33-59
Antonio José RODRÍGUEZ HERNÁNDEZ, Asientos and Military Contractors in the Seventeenth Century: The Example of the Bread and the Gunpowder..	61-98
José Manuel SERRANO ÁLVAREZ, Power and Glory: Elite and Military Bases in the Havana Shipyard during XVIII Century	99-125
María BAUDOT MONROY, Contractors and Naval Policy. The Victualling of the Spanish Navy in the Beginning of the War against Great Britain, 1739-1741..	127-158
Rafael TORRES SÁNCHEZ, Direct Administration of Asiento. The State Military Supply Policy in Eighteenth-Century Spain	159-199
Sergio SOLBES FERRI, Campillo and Ensenada: Supplying Wardrobe for the Army during the Italian Campaigns (1741-1748)	201-233
Francisco ANDÚJAR CASTILLO, War, Venality and Soldier Contracts in the XVIII Century	235-267
Agustín GONZÁLEZ ENCISO, Contractors and Manufacturers: Supplying Arms and Ammunition to the Spanish State in XVII and XVIII Centuries ...	269-303

MISCELLANY

Francisco Javier LORENZO PINAR, Trading Companies Foundation in the City of Zamora in the Sixteenth Century (1575-1600)	307-342
Soledad GÓMEZ NAVARRO, Family, Statement and Institution: The Secular Clergy in the Kingdom of Cordoba in the Mid-Eighteenth Century. The Case of Lucena	343-369
Máximo DIAGO HERNANDO, Bartolomé Arnolfo, a Native from Savoy in Madrid at the Middle of the Seventeenth Century, Financier, Merchant and Owner of Transhumant Livestock	371-407
María del Mar FELICES DE LA FUENTE, To Reward Services with Honors: the Growth of the Nobility Titled in the Reigns of Philip IV and Charles II...	409-435
Ángel ALLOZA APARICIO y Stefano VILLANI, Continental Contemporary Readings of the English Revolution. The Cases of Italy and Spain as Examples..	437-459

